Ontario Drug Benefit

Description

- The Ontario Drug Benefit (ODB) Program covers most of the cost of 4,400 prescription drug products, some nutrition products and some diabetic testing agents. The list of products covered by the ODB program is called the "Formulary". Some products listed on the Formulary will only be funded in limited circumstances and/or for a limited duration in time.
- As well, under special circumstances the Exceptional Access Program may cover most of the cost of various drug products that are not on the Formulary for people in the ODB Program. Your doctor must apply on your behalf. Approval must be given by the ministry before a drug will be funded by the program if it is not on the Formulary.

Please see above for information on the Exceptional Access Program (EAP) and below for information on the Trillium Drug Program*

Eligibility

You are eligible for ODB program benefits if you live in Ontario, you have a valid Ontario health card and at least one of these statements applies to you :

- I am 65 years of age or older
- I live in a Long-Term Care Home or a Home for Special Care
- I am enrolled in the Home Care program
- I have high drugs costs relative to my income and am registered in the Trillium Drug Program
- I receive social assistance through Ontario Works or the Ontario Disability Support Program.

To qualify, an Ontario doctor or other authorized prescriber must prescribe the drugs and you must buy them from either:

- an accredited Ontario pharmacy OR
- an Ontario doctor who is licensed to sell prescription drug products and is linked to the ministry's Health Network System

Children's Fitness Tax Credit

Description

- You can claim fees paid in the previous year for the cost of registration or membership for your or your spouse's or common-law partner's child in a prescribed program of physical activity. You can claim a maximum of $1,000 of eligible fees per child.
- Children with disabilities - If the child is eligible for the disability tax credit and is under 18 years of age at the beginning of the year, an additional amount of $500 can be claimed if a minimum of $100 is paid for registration or membership fees for a prescribed program of physical activity.
- For a child who qualifies for the disability amount, the requirement for significant physical activity is met if the activities result in movement and in an observable use of energy in a recreational context. Please see website for more details.

Eligibility

- The child must have been under 16 years of age (or under 18 years of age if eligible for the disability tax credit at line 316) at the beginning of the year in which an eligible fitness expense was paid.

To qualify for this tax credit, a program must:

- be ongoing (last at least eight consecutive weeks or, in the case of children's camps, five consecutive days);
- be supervised;
- be suitable for children; and
- require significant physical activity.
- Generally, most of the activities must include a significant amount of physical activity contributing to cardiorespiratory endurance
- Physical activity includes strenuous games like hockey or soccer, activities such as golf lessons, horse-back riding, sailing and bowling as well as others

Disability Tax Credit

Description

The disability tax credit (DTC) is a non-refundable tax credit that helps persons with disabilities or their supporting persons reduce the amount of income tax they may have to pay. An individual may claim the disability amount once they are eligible for the DTC. This amount includes a supplement for persons under 18 years of age at the end of the year.

- The purpose of the DTC is to provide for greater tax equity by allowing some relief for disability costs, since these are unavoidable additional expenses that other taxpayers don't have to face.
- Being eligible for the DTC can open the door to other federal, provincial, or territorial programs such as the registered disability savings plan, the working income tax benefit, and the child disability benefit.

Eligibility

You are eligible for the DTC only if Form T2201 is approved. A medical practitioner has to complete and certify that you have a severe and prolonged impairment and must describe its effects.

- There is a questionnaire online to find out if the person with the disability may be eligible.
- See Examples of impairments to show the basic differences between impairments that qualify for the DTC and those that do not.

Amici Camping Charity
Description • Amici provides funding for children from low-income families to attend an overnight partner camp in Ontario. • Amici works with several partner camps who are dedicated to serving children with special needs. There is a different application process for families with special needs campers: • Apply directly to the Partner Camp: Apply to the Amici partner camp whose program you feel best meets your child's unique needs. The partner camp will conduct an initial screening of each new applicant according to their typical application process. The camp will assess your child's medical and developmental needs to determine if their camp is a suitable environment for your child. • Partner Camp Provides a Referral to Amici: Once a child is approved by the camp, the family will be referred to Amici to apply for funding. Amici will then conduct a financial analysis and complete reference checks according to our typical application process. • Please note that we are not able to review funding applications for special needs campers without an accompanying referral from a partner	Eligibility • Parents who are looking for an overnight summer camp for their child. Sorry, but Amici does not provide funding for day camps. • Parents of children between the ages of 7 – 17 years • Parents who are in need of financial support in order to send their child to camp. Amici campers are from low-income households and have limited access to recreation programs and similar outlets. • Girls and boys between the ages of 7 – 17 years are eligible to apply for Amici funding

Kids in Camp

Description

- Camperships are available for day and overnight camps accredited by the Ontario Camps Association. KIDS IN CAMP considers every campership application submitted by the Camp Directors of OCA accredited camps.
- Please begin the process early so your Camp Director may submit applications by mid-March each year.
- Please visit the website of the Ontario Camps Association:
- Go to the Parents heading and select “Find a Camp” to review the camp options available to you.
- Select your preferred camp(s) after researching the options.
- Contact the Camp Director(s) and discuss your situation.
- Determine if there is space at the time you have selected.

Eligibility

- Camperships are available for day and overnight camps accredited by the Ontario Camps Association.
- Will fund 1 session at camp. The length of time varies with each camp and is something you should discuss with the camp director.
- Camperships are determined by the Kids in Camp Campership Committee and are considered based on need and a camp director’s recommendation.
- The earlier you apply the better to ensure that the application can be reviewed in time.
- Funds are limited.

- Ask the Camp Director to apply to KIDS IN CAMP on your child's behalf. (All OCA Accredited Camps have received information from KIC about how to apply for a camper subsidy).

Special Services at Home (SSAH)

Description

The program helps families pay for special services in or outside the family home as long as the child is not receiving support from a residential program. For example, the family can hire someone to:

- help the child learn new skills and abilities, such as improving their communications skills and becoming more independent
- provide respite support to the family - families can get money to pay for services that will give them a break, or respite, from the day-to-day care of their child.

Eligibility

Families can apply for this support if their children have a developmental or physical disability:

- live in Ontario; and,
- need more support than most families can provide

and

- are living at home with their family, or
- if they are not living at home with their family and are not being helped by other residential services

Tim Hortons Foundation

Description

- Our Summer Camp Program offers a once-in-a-life time opportunity for children, aged 9-12, from low-income families to attend summer camp. Tim Hortons Restaurant Owners work with local youth serving organizations and schools to find qualified children for each session. This program is also offered during the school breaks in March.
- Unlike most camps, parents don't apply directly to send their children to a Tim Horton Children's Foundation camp. If you are a parent wishing for your child to be involved, your first step is to contact your child's school or a local agency he/she is involved with, and ask whether a Tim Hortons restaurant owner has asked them to refer children.

Eligibility

- All children who attend our camps are selected and referred by local organizations that work with children from low-income families. Tim Hortons owners ask these organizations to refer children between the ages of 9 and 12 who meet our criteria.
- In order to attend a Foundation camp, children must be:
- From a low-income family. (As specified by Statistics Canada's Low Income Cut-offs and the U.S. Census Bureau's Poverty Thresholds.)
- In the appropriate program age group
- Selected by a Community Agency or school working with local Tim Hortons Restaurant Owners, or be invited to apply by the Foundation
- Able to fully participate in all aspects of

• If they have not been asked, but someone at your child's school or agency would be willing to recommend them, please ask that person to contact the Foundation's Home Office. Their contact information will then be added to a list of people interested in referring. • If spaces become available in your community, the Foundation will contact your school or agency representative to complete an application for camp.	the program (physically, emotionally and behaviourally)
